

LOUISVILLE TIMES

LOUISVILLE:
JOHN G. BULLOCK & JOHN C. NOBLE, EDITORS

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS

FOR PRESIDENT,
JAMES BUCHANAN,
OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JOHN C. BRECKINRIDGE, OF KENTUCKY.

Electoral Ticket:

For the State at large—RON. ELIJAH HISE, and CO. JOHN W. STEVENSON.
First District—COL. R. D. GHOLSON.
Second District—JOHN P. DEVEREUX.
Third District—JOHN A. FINN.
Fourth District—TIMELEON CRAVEN.
Fifth District—BERNARD MAGOFFIN.
Sixth District—B. F. RICE.
Seventh District—W. H. REED.
Eighth District—W. W. WOOLLEY.
Ninth District—H. E. STANTON.
Tenth District—BIRAM KELSEY.

SUNDAY: JULY 20, 1856.

Virginia and Henry A. Wise.

Henry A. Wise was the first man to raise his powerful and eloquent voice against the oath-bound organization; and Virginia was the first State to plant herself in its pathway and say—“thus far thou shalt go and no further.” The whole nation felt a deep and anxious interest in the decision of Virginia. The Democracy, who had been routed and defeated in nearly every State in the Union, looked with hope and confidence to the fate of Henry A. Wise. When the day of election arrived the great Democratic heart beat quick and fast. We knew that Virginia, in all the political convulsions and revolutions, had never forsaken the proud banner which had been so triumphantly borne by Jefferson and Jackson. Every line of intelligence from the faithful old State was read with greedy impatience. We read with pleasure, with joy, and with pride the soul-stirring letter of Henry A. Wise, just as he closed his brilliant canvas, after having made one hundred and twenty-seven speeches.

And when we heard the glorious news that old Virginia was true to herself and true to her ancestors, our Democratic hearts overflowed with joy and gratitude. We felt that the pang of defeat in other States was more compensated for by the transcendent glory of the triumph in Virginia. This victory encouraged and revived Democracy all over the nation. There was not a Democratic paper in the whole Union but came forth with a flaming “leader” in praise of Virginia’s devotion to Democracy. “She was the admired of all admirers.”

From that time Know Nothing began to decline. The election of Henry A. Wise was the death warrant of the “American” party. The young and precocious one which promised to be mighty and fruitful is now withered and decaying—nearly every branch is dead. The soil was ungenial. Know Nothing is about to take that long sleep that knows no waking.

“No medicine in the world can do them good.”

It is right and just that this party should perish and die—for its principles were un-American in all their aspects and tendencies. It built up sectionalism, encouraged mob-law violence, exercised the prejudices of our foreign citizens, sinned deadly blows at the principle of religious freedom, made unjust discriminations between individuals, and so on, ad infinitum. The whole country may with much reason rejoice and congratulate itself on being rid of so great a nuisance.

Honor to whom honor is due, we say. Let Henry A. Wise have his meed of praise for he truly merits it—he fought the “Bloody” Know Nothing boldy, fearlessly and successfully. But while we remember with gratitude the noble son, let us not forget the venerable mother. In after years—

“Over these scenes our memories will wake, And fully brood over them; care makes; And every heart shrinks from deep wear.”

THE SOUTH CAROLINA PRESS AND THE CINCINNATI NEWS.—Nineteen out of the twenty-seven public journals in South Carolina are supporting Mr. Buchanan for the Presidency. In the nineteen are embraced the Charleston Mercury, Charleston Standard, the Columbia Banner, the Carolinian, and, indeed, all the papers of note influence in the State.

On Wednesday, Gov. Powell and Mr. B. P. Cissel spoke in the town of Henderson, and as the result, seven persons withdrew from the K. N. Council.

CONSISTENCY.—When the Democratic Convention nominated the present Executive, the opposition immediately raised the cry—“his experience is not extensive, his career not brilliant enough. To please this whining set we now offer them a candidate who has been in the very heart of politics for more than forty years—and yet they are not satisfied. Verily, it is hard to please a sick child.”

The noted, or rather notorious Schlesinger was not shot as reported. He left the North of Nicaragua with a party of bandits. It is clearly ascertained that $10,000 purchased his silence.

A personal difficulty occurred in Paris, on Sunday evening, between two boys, about 17 years of age; John Turner and Edward Richardson. Rocks and knives were freely used, which resulted in the stabbing of Richardson by Turner, the wound is severe but not dangerous.

President Shannon, late of Missouri University, will preach in the Christian Church, corner of Fourth and Walnut streets to-day. He is one of the most learned and eloquent Divines in the Union.

Mr. Brook’s Speech.—On our first page will be found the speech of Hon. P. S. Brooks, of South Carolina. We advise everybody to read it. It is a masterly vindication of the motives which prompted him to chase Sumner.

The election of Directors of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad takes place to-morrow. Quite an animated contest is likely to take place. We have heard it charged that an association of Louisville capitalists desire to obtain control of the road, so to manage it, as to reduce the price of the stock and then buy it up.

Henry Clay King, Esq., of Paducah, who was a prominent leader and stump speaker in the Know Nothing ranks in this city this time last year, made a speech at the Democratic ratification meeting in Smithland, on the 26th ult., in which he declared himself for Buchanan and Breckinridge and renounced all further connection with Know Nothingism.

John H. Gorge, of New Hampshire, has been appointed Secretary of the Territory of Minnesota.

Mr. E. J. Haven, Lines, son of the president of the New Haven (Conn.) Company of Engineers, was killed by a Wyandot Indian in Kansas Territory late in June.

There was an immense assemblage at the Democratic mass meeting at Springfield, on Thursday. Speeches were made by Col. Preston, Col. John W. Stevenson, and Hon. Charles A. Wickliffe.

Our Democratic friends in Tennessee feel confident of carrying that State by a large majority—ten to twelve thousand.

The Louisville Journal is making a desperate effort to misrepresent the position of Mr. Buchanan in reference to the celebrated resolutions offered by Mr. Calhoun during the session of 1836-37. A full statement of Mr. Buchanan’s votes on all the phases of the subject assumed in the progress of the debate, is a triumphant response to the vile and malicious slanders of the Know Nothing organ.

Here are Mr. Calhoun’s resolutions:

Resolved, That, in the adoption of the Federal Constitution, the States adopting the same acted, severally, as free, independent and sovereign States; and that each for itself, by its own voluntary assent, entered the Union with the view to its increased security against all dangers, domestic as well as foreign, and the more perfect and secure enjoyment of its advantages, natural, political and social.

Resolved, That in delegating a portion of their powers to be exercised by the Federal Government, the States retained, severally, the exclusive and sole right over their own domestic institutions and their own external relations, which those powers were not thus delegated, and are alone responsible for them; and that any intermeddling of one or more States, or a combination of the others, with the domestic institutions and police of the others, is any ground, political, moral or religious, or under any pretext whatever, with the view to their alteration or subversion, is a violation of the Constitution.

Resolved, That the Constitution, in its original form, did not contain any provision which could endanger the domestic peace and tranquility of the States interfered with, irrespective of the objects for which the Constitution was formed, and by necessary consequence, tending to weaken and destroy the Union itself.

Resolved, That this Government was instituted for the benefit of all the States of the Union as a common agent, in order to carry into effect the powers which they had delegated by the constitution for their mutual security and prosperity; and that in fulfillment of this high and sacred trust, this Government is bound to exercise its powers as a common agent, for the stability and security of the domestic institutions of the States which compose the Union; and that it is the solemn duty of the Government to resist, to the extent of its constitutional power, all attempts by one portion of the Union to use it as an instrument to attack the domestic institutions of another, or to weaken the foundations of the Union.

Resolved, That the domestic slavery, as it exists in the Southern and Western States of this Union, composing an important part of their domestic institutions, inherited from their ancestors, and existing at the adoption of the Constitution, by which it is recognized as constituting an important element in the apportionment of power between the States, and in the distribution of the revenues, is a manifest violation of the part of the Constitution which demands that all the slaves shall be counted in the enumeration.

Resolved, That the domestic slaves of the Union in relation to it can justify them or their citizens in open and systematic attacks thereon with a view to their overthrow; and that all such attacks are in manifest violation of the mutual and solemn pledge to protect and defend each other, given by the States of the Union, in order to form the constitutional compact, which formed the Union, and as such are a manifest breach of faith, and a violation of the most solemn obligations.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That any attempt of Congress to abolish slavery in any Territory of the United States in which it exists, would create serious alarm and just apprehension in the minds of the people of any such Territory who have been permitted to enter with and hold slaves thereon, because the people of any such Territory have not asked for the abolition of slavery therein, and because, when any such Territory shall be admitted into the Union as a State, the people thereof will be entitled to decide that question exclusively for themselves.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland, a just cause of alarm to the people of the slaveholding States, and a direct and heretical tendency to disturb and disintegrate the Union.

Resolved, That the interference of the citizens of any of the States, with a view to the abolition of slavery, and the security of the people of the District, and the rights and security of the people of the District; and that any act or measure of Congress designed to abolish slavery in this District would be a violation of the faith implied in the cessions by the States of Virginia and Maryland

LOUISVILLE TIMES.

W. S. SWYMMER,
General Newspaper Advertising Agent, corner of Olive and Mainstreets, Louisville, Ky., is the Agent for the Times.

A. D. JACKSON,
Successor to S. T. GARRICK & CO.,
Newspaper Advertising Agents, Louisville, Ky.,
Newspaper Advertising Agents, Intelligence, Real Estate and Patent Right Office.

No. 457 Main Street, bet. Fourth and Fifth, Cincinnati, O.

JULY 20, 1856.

Speaking Monday Night.

Col. George A. Caldwell will deliver an Address upon the political topics of the day, before the young Men's Democratic Association, to-morrow night at the Court House, at 8 o'clock. The public are invited to attend.

The thermometer at 3 o'clock yesterday, at Fletcher's stood at 85 in the shade.

See the advertisement of J. T. Burton's Sale on Wednesday.

Courts of Solm.—A German woman was struck yesterday. She was taken to Dr. Griffith's and soon restored.

The Emma Dean went up to Cincinnati yesterday with a flatboat in tow laden with the machinery of the sunken steamer Magnolia.

The Moses McMillan is the mail boat for Cincinnati to-day at 12 o'clock.

For Sr. Louis.—The steamer Henrietta, Capt. Gray, goes to St. Louis to-day at 12 o'clock. She is light draught, and will go through with ease.

Capt. Lockhart, the Superintendent, gives notice that the Louisville and Portland canal will be closed on the 1st of August to make the necessary repairs and improvements. It will require six weeks to two months to do the work.

Gold from California.—Since the first of June, being the first half of the year 1856, there has been landed in New York from California the sum of $21,836.84.

The fine steamer City of Cairo, Captain Yocom, will leave Portland at 9 o'clock this morning for Cairo, New Orleans, and all intermediate ports.

Death of a Literary Lady.—Lydia Maria Child, well known in American literature as a late writer of much merit, died recently in Paris. She was a descendant of the illustrious Lee family of Virginia.

The baghead of tobacco which was sold at the Ninth Street Warehouse, Friday at $12 per hundred was the sixth of a crop, raised by Gibon Woodward, of Hart county. The six bags sold at prices ranging from $11 to $22 75 and the average price of the whole lot was $15 39 per hundred.

Fine Cigars.—Mr. Diller, on Third street next to the Democrat office, received yesterday, a very fine article of cigars. They are pronounced by those who have tried them to be excellent. Smokers will do well to call at Diller's—as they are going off fast.

We understand Mezograph Likenesses (from the original Autotype by Troxel), of Maj. John C. Breckinridge, will shortly be out at $2 per copy. Every Democrat should procure one. Orders can be left at Troxel's, Main street, between Third and Second.

Col. W. H. Fennell, formerly the editor and for the last ten years one of the proprietors of the Frankfort Commonwealth, has withdrawn from it. The Commonwealth will henceforth be under the sole control of Col. Hodges.

We advise all who are in any way afflicted with dyspepsia, or anything of that nature, to give Stewart's celebrated Stomachic Bitter a trial; for we are sure they will be benefited thereby. For sale by Andrew Stewart, Fifth and Market.

New Correspondent.—Messrs. Thos. Browne & Co., bankers, Main street, have shown us a counterfeited note on the Northern Bank of Kentucky, well calculated to deceive the careless. It is of the denomination of $10, and a close examination will show that the signatures on it are all forged. Persons receiving notes of this description cannot be too cautious.

News from Mexico on the 3d and 4th of June, to the 5th inst., confirm the publication of a decree that the clergy are not permitted to hold property, and that it was issued in Mexico on the 28th ult.

A sensible Emperor.—The Emperor of China, instead of paying the doctor as we do when we are unwell, the instant he is taken ill, stops the pay of his physicians, and "does not renew it until he is quite well again."

A letter from Washington states that a requisition from the Governor of California to the President has been received, calling on him to furnish United States troops to enforce the laws, which have been trampled upon by the action of the Vigilance Committee in that State.

CHANCE OF FORTUNE.—The N. O. Creole states that Mrs. Jas. Morrison Headley, formerly a wealthy lady of that city, but forced by reverses of fortune to resort to music teaching for a support, has fallen heir to an estate in England, valued at £50,000.

Col. R. D. Gholson the old war-horse of Democracy, is doing gallant service in the 1st District. Wherever he goes there will be a flustering amongst the bats and owls.

QUININE DOOMED TO FALL!

We are instructed by one of our principal Drug dealers that Farr's Aque Tonic, or Substitute for Quinine, must finally annihilate the use of that preparation. The suffering produced by the indiscriminate use of Quinine is often more calamitous in result than the worst type of the malady can possibly be, and a compound possessing the medical properties, without the baneful effects of that drug, must be of incalculable benefit to mankind. Farr's Tonic is designed especially for Fever and Ague, and though plainly put up, without a long list of counterfeit certificates, contains within that which will recommend it to all.

We are now testing its value in our office, and will shortly be enabled to speak more fully as to its claims for public patronage. It can be had at Steph's, Market-street, or Hurley's, Seventh and Green.

OUR GROUND COFFEE.—We would direct the attention of the citizens of Louisville, and especially the ladies, to the article of Pure Roasted and Ground Coffee, put up by Abram Fonda. This article is pure and the method by which it is roasted is such that the coffee contains its whole flavor and strength.

We have given it a good test, and pronounce it superior to that of our own preparing. We also keep on hand a superior article of Green and Black Tea, which surpasses in flavor any that we have ever used.

Mr. Fonda's assortment of groceries are very extensive and comprise the best qualities. We would advise all those who are fond of a good article to give him a call at 95 Fourth street.

McGinn's Liquid Amber is now a standard remedy for all bowel diseases, and is prescribed by the best physicians, in severe as well as in mild cases. It is pleasant to the taste, and taken readily by the smallest infant. We have heard of one case of flux, in which a child three days old took it with entire success. Persons travelling or at home should always have a bottle by them. Raymond & Patten are the authorized agents, and none can be genuine without their names on the wrapper.

d-wly

The most elegant private house in the city of New York cost $250,000.

The old fog whig of Lexington met, resolved, and adjourned. It is wonderful that there was a man amongst them who had sense enough to move a adjournment.

On the Liquor Law.—The Springfield Mass., Republican states that the Supreme Court of that State has sustained the constitutionality of the existing liquor law, in cases brought up to it from several of the eastern counties.

ROMANCE SPILLED.—Shortly after the nomination of Col. Fremont by the black-republicans, the N. Y. Tribune and other kindred papers came out with a beautiful story, entitled "Fremont, or the ride of the hundred," which connected him with one of the hundred exploits in California during the Mexican war. Capt. Schenck, U. S. N., has been so enraged as to spoil this pretty romance, by pronouncing it utterly false and lets the public still farther into Fremont's military career in such a manner as attaches little honor or credit to the Colonel's gallantry. Capt. S. was there and knows all about what occurred in California, and deems that Col. Fremont was in any of the battles which occurred in that State.

At Lebanon, - - - - - July 18th.
" Danville, - - - - - 21st.
" Stanford, - - - - - 22d.
" Lancaster, - - - - - 23d.

COL. WM. J. HEADY.

Will address his fellow-citizens at the following time and places:

At Lebanon, - - - - - July 18th.
" Danville, - - - - - 21st.
" Stanford, - - - - - 22d.
" Lancaster, - - - - - 23d.

COL. WM. J. HEADY.

Has accepted the appointment of Elector for the State at large, in place of the Hon. J. C. Breckinridge. He will address the people at the following time and places:

At Lebanon, - - - - - July 18th.
" Danville, - - - - - 21st.
" Stanford, - - - - - 22d.
" Lancaster, - - - - - 23d.

COL. WM. J. HEADY.

Will address his fellow-citizens at the following time and places, upon the political topics of the day:

At Lebanon, Monday July 21.
Hay's Springs, Wednesday, July 23.
Brunswick, Saturday, July 26.

INFORMATION WANTED

Of Jno. W. Murphy, a Collector who live in the central portion of Kentucky.

NOTICE.

The Subscribers, Boarders at the National Hotel, learn that some evil-disposed persons have circulated reports at the South and West that this hotel is closed, beg leave to state that such is not the fact, that the hotel is capable of accommodating all who may apply.

We would also beg leave to give our testimony of the efficiency of its gentlemanly Manager, Mr. Harry D. Fletcher, and would command him to all travelers as the prince of Hotel keepers.

DR. A. REYNOLDS, P. S. BAMBERGER; David S. Atchley; Captain S. McGuire; John W. Farrel; and Capt. W. E. Robinson, U. S. N., from Cincinnati; Ky.; Wm. E. Robinson, U. S. N., from Richmond; John E. Price; Samuel A. Golay; Thomas J. Griffith; Mr. Andrew Stewart; C. Reynolds; R. Sillott; J. C. Sillott; H. Bedford; Lester Goodson; Green Monroe; A. S. R. Hallowell; A. B. Kellogg; H. S. Heth; Walter G. Anderson; G. W. Hall; J. D. Dudley; John McRae; G. C. Prentice; Henry Barrett; Frank Franklin; S. J. C. Henning.

Louisville, Ky., July 19, 1856.

County paper please copy one time d-w-1.

At Cos.—Miller & Tabb, corner of Market and Fourth streets, will offer at cost, from this date until the 1st of August, their entire stock of lace mantillas, fancy summer silks, organdie muslin and barece robe, silk mantillas, parasols, ribbons, rich lace sets, lace berths, misses' blouses and organdie muslin robes, summer chintz, ginghams, delaines, printed chaffa, &c.

The stock of this firm is large and complete, embracing a great variety of every description of fancy and staple dry goods. Persons visiting our city, especially ladies, will find it greatly to their advantage to examine the goods of this house before making their purchases elsewhere. They have a large stock of Swiss, Nainsook, and Mull muslins, belts in all colors, fans, white brillianies, lace mita, hose, linen cambric handkerchiefs, Marseilles for making basques, bows and hair skirts, linens, &c. For choice goods call soon.

From the New York Herald.

Starling News From Washington.—

Democratic Conspiracy to Secure Election of Jno. C. Breckinridge as President of the United States.

Washington, July 16, 1856.

A very curious and important secret movement is afoot here in behalf of the Southern Democracy, being not so much a conspiracy of the original party, as a personal acquaintance with Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession and for these Christian principles which it is your duty to proclaim and observe, induce me to take it for granted that you would not knowingly utter an unmitigated falsehood in the pulpit on the Sabbath day, with the intent to injure the character of a brother in the church.

Referring to the affray between Mr. Summer and Mr. Brooks you say: "Douglas of giant frame, stood by with his hands in his pocket."

Although there is no personal acquaintance with you, knowledge of the character of the man, a minister of the Gospel, my respect for your profession

